BOWLING.

AN EXCITING FINISH IN THE LAST GAME OF THE NATIONAL SERIES.

The National League series at Starr's Alleys, No. 812 West Fifty-ninth-st., was finished last night with a lot of excitement. The Harlem Republican Club's team was beaten in both of the first two games, and the winners then came together in the final game. Considerable money was bet on the final game. Considerable money was set on the result, and the excitement ran high until the last ball was rolled.

CYCLING.

POPULAR WHEELWAYS IN NEED OF RE-PAIRS-MERRICK ROAD SHOULD BE RESURFACED - WHERE THE OLD WHEELS GO.

Wheelmen who have done much riding of late say that many of the popular wheelways in the district are in need of repairs. William R. Pitman, the veteran rider, pays close attention to the condition of the roads, and he is one of the riders who never think of storing their wheels. He may be seen on the road every clear Sunday during the winter provided the roads are ridable. In speaking of the roads yesterday Pitman said: "The Merrick Road should be resurfaced immediately, especially from Jamaica to Crawfords. There is a stretch there for about three miles which will get much worse if something is not done. Wheelmen make a smooth path on each side of the road, and these paths will be found to be in much better condition than the centre of the road. While the road is bad in places all the way to Freeport, it is worse near this end, which was the first part of the road built. Now, if they would repair the roads hereabouts as they do under the park system in Boston better repairs would be made and the people who use the roads would not be inconvenienced as they are here. The idea here seems to be to pile on top dressing in heaps and then allow travel to distribute the material. In Boston they put on less material, distributing it nicely, and then watering the zoad. Then the roadway is rolled, and it is in first class condition within twenty-four hours. I have noticed that the brick pavement leading into Jamaica is also full of holes." for about three miles which will get much worse it

From other road experts and those who are riding regularly it was learned that the roads generally are in excellent condition for this time of the year, except that they are unusually dusty. A little rain would help the conditions for to-morrow. Seventh-ave., in this borough, is better along the sides where the wheelmen have made paths than it is in the middle. Lenox-ave. is in poor condition, and the well posted wheelmen seldom go there now. Fifth-ave, to Lenox-ave., is in a condition which does no credit to the city officials who are supposed to look after such things. A rider who passed along that thoroughfare yesterday said last night that he had counted twenty loose pieces of stone and bowlders on that side of the street, the obstructions owiders on that side of the street, the obstructions eing from the size of a duck egg to the dimensions f a silk hat. It is a dangerous place for wheelen after dark. Riders there frequently take to be sidewalks for safety. The cycle paths in Riverde Drive have been resurfaced and are in good andition. Hudson-st, is still in bad condition, and ere might as well be no asphalted strips there at it. Riders who care for their wheels and for their was safety should give this street a wide berth. Token glass is to be found everywhere. When olonel Waring held sway broken glass was quickly moved. A wheelman in Hudson-st, the other day sked one of the "white wings" why the broken glass was not removed, and the language he re-ceived as an answer was so vile that the wheelman sent in a complaint to the head of the Street Clean-ing Department.

While the automobile is gaining ground steadily have much to learn about the proper manner in which to handle the machines. Many complaints have been made against the motormen on some of the vehicles. It has been noticed that many are sent to the curb in such a way that the rear sent to the curb in such a way that the rear of the machines sticks out into the street at an angle of forty-five degrees. The curbs are approached in this way to prevent the rear tires from scratching against the curb when the motorman it ready to go on his way. Still, there is no good reason why there should be so much space left between the rear wheels and the curb. It blocades the street, and is frequently an inconvenience to pedestrians. Automobiles can be turned when only six inches separate the rear tire from the curb, just as well and as safely as under the present system.

BILLIARDS.

WESTERN AMATEURS ARRIVE TO PLAY FOR THE CLASS B CHAMPIONSHIP.

J. De Mun Smith, of St. Louis, who is though be the strongest amateur billiard player in the West except McCreery, arrived in town yes-terday and began to practise at Schaefer's Academy with the veteran professional "Tom" Gal-Smith is one of the ten experts entered lagher. Smith is one of the ten experts entered for the Class B amateur championship, which begins on Monday, at the Knickerbocker A. C. Theatre under the auspices of the Amateur Athletic Union. W. W. Kellogs, of Chicago, is expected to-day, as well as Albert G. Cutler and Charles Threshie, both of Boston.

The A. A. U. Billiard Committee has decided to separate the ten players into two qualifying rounds of five men each, and the first three players in each will meet in the finals. The first section contains Smith, Cutler, Miller, Hendrick and Douglas, while in the second section are Kellogg, Threshie, Hevner, Tobias and Servatius. The schedules provide for two games Monday night, the first between Smith and Hendrick, and the second between Kellogg and Tobias. After the opening day, there will be one game each afternoon and two games evening.

BOXING.

BERNSTEIN KNOCKS OUT "DAVE" WALLACE IN ONE ROUND.

"Dave" Wallace, feather weight, the last of the English fighters who have arrived in this city recently, all of whom met defeat, suffered the same experience last night by being defeated by "Joe" Bernstein, the East Side boxer, in the first round. He was knocked out in one minute and thirteen seconds at the Broadway Athletic Club before a large audience. Wallace fought like a novice. It large audience. Wallace fought like a novice. It was 9:30 when the fight began. The conditions were to be twenty-five rounds at 124 pounds, under Queensberry rules. Bernstein, in opening the round, forced his opponent back to the ropes, where he landed a number of short left hooks on Wallace's head and jaw. Wallace dropped to the floor, but arose quickly. Bernstein sent him to the floor again with short arm pokes. Wallace came up and sent his left to Bernstein's chest. Bernstein then sent a left hook on Wallace's jaw, which again sent him to the floor, where he lay until counted out.

again sent him to the floor, where he lay until counted out.

The crowd, who paid from $1 to $5 each to see the fight, insisted that they were not going to give such a sum to see such an exhibition. They remained in their seats and yelled for fully ten minutes for another bout to be put on. Finally the management decided to put on another fight, and had it announced that if the spectators would remain another contest would be arranged in five minutes. "Jimmy" Duane then fought "Whittey" Lester for fifteen rounds. It was fast and hard. Duane had his right eye cut in the early part of the bout. At the end of the contest "Charlle" White, the referee, gave the decision to Lester. In the preliminary bout "Tommy" Feltz punished "Kid" Allen so badly that the referee stopped the bout in the fifth round. Feltz, who welghed sixteen pounds less than his opponent, was declared the winner.

YALE TO PLAY HOCKEY. There will be a game of hockey at the St. Nicholas Skating Rink, in West Sixty-sixth-st., this evening at 815 o'clock, between Yale University, the winners of last season's intercollegiate cham-pensity, and the St. Nicholas Skating Club.

TRAVIS BEATEN IN THE FIRST ROUND AT LAKEWOOD.

OAKLAND MAN LOSES TO ROBBINS, TWO UP AND ONE TO GO-WATSON'S FINE GAME-HOW

League tournament at Thum & Kahlsdorf's Palace THE MEN WILL MEET TO-DAY. Match play was the order of the day in the annual tournament at Lakewood yesterday, the first and second rounds for both cups being decided. Links and weather were perfect. Travis, the medal winner of the previous day, was beaten in the first round by Robbins, of St. Andrews, but with this exception there was no unusual surprise. Match play, always the more interesting from an onlooker's standpoint, succeeded the stroke game of the qualifying round and served to attract an appreciative and enthusiastic crowd, and not only the clubhouse and lawns, but the roads overlooking the links were filled with visitors.

Travis's defeat occasioned a good deal of surprise, though the Oakland man is never as strong at match play as in the other form of the game For the last two tournaments, however, Travis has won the chief cup, and his defeat yesterday changes the whole aspect of the competition. When Travis took the gold medal the general prediction was that he and Douglas would meet in the finals, as they did a year ago, but now it rather looks as though Menzies and Douglas would be the com

It was in the morning round that Travis was beaten, and the strange part of it was that Robbins, who showed such brilliant form then, was himself beaten in the afternoon by Kimball, one of the home players, and a man not regarded as dangerous to any of the cracks. Robbins, however, thoroughly deserved his morning victory. He and Travis played evenly throughout. On the first nine holes neither was more than one hole ahead at any time, and when the turn was made Travis had advantage. Robbins had matters all even at the thirteenth, and taking the next two in succession was 2 up and 3 to go. Travis managed to halve the sixteenth and seventeenth, but as Robbins won the home hole at 4 to 5, the match ended with Robbins the victor. The cards:

Douglas's match with Hamilton, the Baltusrol Douglas's match with Hamilton, the Baltusrol champion, was another close one, even better, in fact, than the other, as far as scoring was concerned. Douglas won by 1 up, but Hamilton forced him to go round in record figures to do it. At the end of the first half the score was tied, Douglas had gone out in 41 to to his opponent's 42. The next two were halved. Then Douglas won the twelfth, but Hamilton made the fourteenth in 2, and thus squared matters. Haived holes followed, until the seventeenth, at which point Douglas was 1 up, with 1 to go, and as the home hole was divided Douglas had the match. Following are the cards:

Ransom, who finished second to Travis on Thursday, was beaten by Gordon Douglas, of Oakland, another illustration that medai play is not always a convincing test of merit. James A. Tyng, the Morris County champlon, beat T. L. Pratt, of Nassau, in the morning, only to succumb to Gordon Douglas in the afternoon by 3 up and 1 to play. Menzies, the St. Andrews representative, had little difficulty with I. Townsend Burden, of Newport, who was beaten 3 up and 1 to play, while Lyman Rhoades, of Columbia, lost to Moorehead, of Pittsburg, by 2 up and 1 to play.

The afternoon brought ex-Champion Douglas and R. C. Watson, jr., together—something of a coincidence, as a year ago on the same links these two met in the semi-finals, when Douglas, then champion, was defeated. Yesterday's match came near being a repetition of the previous one, as Watson was only defeated after a tile on the eighteenth green. The cards tell the story:

 <t The nineteenth hole was divided in 4, but on the twentieth Douglas was down in 4 to his opponent's 5, and thus saved himself from a defeat which would have been almost as humillating as that of Harriman's on the previous day. Harriman, by the way, has won the good will of all the contestants by his sportsmanlike action in playing out the consolation matches, and it is needless to say that the cup will be his without much effort. To-day the drawings will bring together Gordon and Findiay, Douglas and Menzles and Robbins, the two survivors meeting in the afternoon in the finals. A pleasant incident of the day was a side match for a cup presented by Bruce Frie, which was humorously dubbed the Inconsolables', as it was open only to those who falled to gain a place for the Consolation Cup. The affair was won by H. M. Forrest, of the Philadelphia Cricket Club, with a score of 88. The summary:

Lakewood Cup (first round)—Gordon Douglas beat Charles Hansome, 4 up and 2 to play; James A. Tyng beat D. T. Pratt, 5 up and 4 to play; R. C. Watson, Jr., beat Paul Proal, 7 up and 5 to play; Findiay Douglas beat Charles Hansome, 1 up and 5 to play; John Moorehead, ir, beat Amoa T. Dwight, 3 up and 1 to play; Paul T. Kimball beat A. E. Hedstrom, 4 up and 2 to play; Arden Robbins beat Watson, 1 up in 20 holes; Menzles beat Moorehead, 5 up and 4 to play; Kimball beat Robbins, 1 up.

BALL SWEEPSTAKES AT ENGLEWOOD. Englewood, N. J., Dec. 1 (Special).-The links of od Golf Club were filled on Thanksgiving Day with members and guests, nearly two hundred members and visitors taking advantage of the beautiful weather to spend the day on the course, On Thursday the favorite ball sweepstakes handicap for men in the morning and a similar handicap for men's foursomes in the afternoon offered, as usual, a most enjoyable day, and secured a large entry in both contests.

Twenty-two entered for the morning play, each contestant depositing two balls with the captain as contestant depositing two balls with the capitaln as an entrance fee. The prizes were divided into first, second and third, or 50, 30 and 10 per cent of the balls contributed, with forty-four balls in the pool. The winner secured twenty-six, second fourteen and third four. It has been found, in this club at least, that these ball sweepstakes, where the first and second prizes always mean in the neighborhood of two boxes and one box respectively, attract a much larger entry than contests or pewter cups, which, for the most part, are not valued if won. In the afternoon foursomes sixteen couples competed. Following are the scores:

ANNUAL FOOTBALL GAMES AT PHILADELPHIA. Philadelphia, Dec. 1 (Special).-The last big football game of the year will be played here tomorrow afternoon. The West Point Military Cadets will try to prove their superiority to the elever that represents the Annapolis Military Academy. The greatest amount of interest attaches to this contests on the gridiron, between the two crack government schools. These annual struggles were discontinued some years ago by a disapproving government, but the powers that be have at last yielded to the importunities for a renewal of the have been unusually in the public eye in the last year and a half, a great amount of general interest is being displayed in the work of the elevens, and it is expected that every seat on Franklin Field will be filled when the game begins at 2 p. m. A unique feature of the contest is that according to government orders, no admittance fee will be charged. Accordingly, the many thousand tickets have been distributed among the friends of the two elevens and among the colleges throughout Many of the players of the leading 'varsity elevens will, therefore, be present today, and all the officials are old college men. The management of affairs has been in the hands of the University of Pennsylvania Football Association, which will render every courtesy to the two elevens and to their friends, placing also at their disposal the gridiron on which the battle is to be With the talent upset as it has been in nearly With the talent upset as it has been in nearly every big game this season, it would be extra hazardous to attempt to name the winner for tomorrow. But on their records to date, this season, Annapolis apparently shows up better. The Middles have not had a chance tomeet all the strong elevens that West Point has run up against, like Harvard, Yale and Princeton, but still in the games played have shown better all-around football development. Yet previous records seem to go for naught, and it would surprise no one to see a military victory over the naval powers. Should appear to play much of a part in the result, it will be another feather in the cap of "Jim" Robinson, Yale's trainer, who has been at West Point since the Yale-Princeton game, while if the Middles should appear to be more fit, then McMaster, of Harvard, who has been showing them a thing or two, will gain some credit.

This is the last football game of the season, and it will be watched by admirers of the two branches of the service, from the Atlantic to the Pacific, while it is safe to say that of all brilliant college games of the season, none have excited one tenth of the interest in Cuba and Porto Rico, on one side, and in the country's far away possessions on the other, than this game between the Military and the Naval Cadets will arouse.

ALL THE CADETS TO SEE THE GAME. West Point, Dec. 1 (Special).-The cadets will leave here to-morrow morning at 8 o'clock Philadelphia to witness the Annapolis game. The whole battalion has received permission to go. The Academic Board and Instructors will have a private car. The cadets will have no transportation expenses, as President Cassatt, of the Pennsylvania Railroad, has furnished them a free special train. The officials for the West Point-Annapolis game are all Harvard men: Robert D. Wrenn, umpire; Edgar N. Wrightington, referee, and "Bert" Waters, timekeeper. The south side of Franklin Field has been reserved for the Army, while the Middles will root from the north.

ATHLETICS.

SEVENTH REGIMENT'S ANNUAL GAMES. The annual winter games of the 7th Regiment Athletic Association will be held at the armory tonight. The Wanamaker Store This is the Children's Day

KELLAR, the magician, cuts off his head (apparently), and the trick makes a fine sensation. Here is Kellar in make-believe—you can make folks' eyes bulge, too. The chicks peck at the funny little grains and the farmer's boy pumps away for dear lifejust a toy-a wind-up toy.

No wonder the dear little girl cries -a big old bull-frog has taken the place of her ice cream. But sunshine after shower—the fairies, it must be, remove the frog and bring back the cream. No, not fairies this time—it is simply another mechanical toy-a clock spring does it.

And so it goes-and everything is going, from the athlete who balances on chair backs to the trains with real steam-driven locomotives. The talking machines are talking or doing some other stored-up wonderfulness; there is music and life and fun all over. It's the Basement Toy Store that holds all these things and has room enough besides to entertain several thousand little friends today. Santa Claus is hearing and seeing things to his advantage at Wanamaker's.

Women's Suits and Skirts

Our costume chief said, not so long ago, that in five years we'd be sending styles to Europe. They were going in three years-London chose the very styles of jackets that we had approved for this winter; Berlin accepts American ideas, and one of the talked-of Paris dressmakers was out in a simple American dress during last summer-and remarked that there was much charm in the style Americaine. "Smart," poor as the word is, displaces more and more the Paris "chic," and, all in all, we have reason, not to be proud, but to be vigilant-for we are setting world styles now. Is Paris relegated? Not a bit of it. Isn't there room for the French school and other schools in art? So in dress. We show Paris and American styles lavishly-there are many who say we do the business best. At least we are careful, and women's tailoring has certainly gotten on a high plane by our help. It is pleasant to be able to step right into a costume that meets one's fancy-that is thoroughly correct. But woe to straggling lots! The dress that stays here four or five weeks is ordered out-no matter what the loss. To-day-$10 for homespun, cheviot and covert cloth suits left from lots at $15, $18 and $20. $5 for $6.75 kinds $7.50 for $9 and $10 kinds $12 for quite stylish suits from lots at $21 to $26. Some of the suits full silk lined. $9 for $10 and $12 kinds -and these good-sense skirts are more in demand than ever. All of double-face materials,

Silks for Giving

People are judged by their giving-a wrong gift is close to an insult, yet may be only the result of carelessness. Out-of-place gifts cannot be very welcome. While gifts should not be "swaps" -given to induce giving in return; still they may be too expensive, in that they involve confusing obligation.

Silks are safe to give-but only good ones (there are good of many kinds). Inter-

Four yards of pretty silk in a neat box—a waist pattern—$2 to $15.

Black Silks, in boxes, from waist lengths at $2.25 to dress lengths at $28. Quite forty choices are yours, in the collection ready to-day.

Handkerchiefs for Christmas

Handkerchiefs are maybe safest of Christmas gifts-for fancy ones are all-appealing and plain ones are useful, yes, elegant in the finest qualities. Eight to think about this morning:
